Supplementary Directions 2

1. This is to be read with my Guidance and Directions of 27th June 2018 (“G&D”) and Supplementary Guidance and Directions of 6th July 2018. Except as varied below, these remain in force.
2. The Secretary of State for Housing, Communities and Local Government has said he hopes a revised National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) will be ready before Parliament’s summer recess, which starts on the 24th July 2018. If any person wishes to comment on the effect of any substantial change from the current NPPF they may do so in writing provided their comment is sent to Mr Sam Townley no later than 4.00 pm on Thursday 23rd August 2018.
3. This is strictly limited to substantial changes that are relevant to the NDP examination. Any comment should say how the revised NPPF differs in substance from the current NPPF and why this difference may make a difference to my consideration of the issues. Reordering, or other revising of wording, that does not have a substantial effect is not covered.
